Ten Attend Christmas Planning Session

Only ten people attended the meeting held in Chief Shoppengons Viking Room Monday morning, to discuss Christmas decorating and promotion for the coming season.

Tentative plans include the first appearance of Santa for the season to be on the Friday following Thanksgiving with Michigan Ave. and Cedar St. decorated in time for the occasion. The light poles are to be decorated with strings of weather proof colored lights from the yard arms back and down to the poles. The bases of the poles are to be decorated with greens as last year. It is hoped to have small evergreen trees placed in each flag pole socket in front of the business places. The sockets are to be converted with pipe to make them large enough to accommodate the tree trunks.

There is to be a Santa Claus mail box again this year.

The purpose of this meeting was to plan to decorate Grayling in the Christmas motif better and sooner than in previous years. Decorations cost money. The merchants will be called upon to contribute to their cost. Also when Grayling looks better everyone benefits so if anyone wishes to contribute, not just business people, please mail or leave your donation with Bob Aschenbrenner at the Shoemaker Store. Checks may be made payable to the Grayling Christmas decorating fund.

The overall plan is to eventually have a manger scene, carolers and other figures depicting Christmas. The current plan is only a start.

Serving on the finance committee are Bob Aschenbrenner, Earl Burns and Mrs. Robert Strong. Bill Joseph is in charge of Santa's mail box and Mrs. Bud Gould and Arnie Maurel of Santa, his arrival and presentation. The City of Grayling is to install and maintain the lighting.

Vikings At Pellston Friday

The Grayling High Vikings are slated to travel to Pellston to meet the Hornets in an afternoon football game in their last away from home contest of the season. Pellston, the only conference school without lights, will entertain Grayling at a 2 p. m. kickoff.

For the first time this season in conference play, the Vikings will go into the game as slight favorites. Their record in loop play thus far in 1963, although disappointing to their fans, has been a bit superior to the Hornets. The green and white should bring a victory home from the north this Friday.

The big upset of last week's play was provided by the Gaylor Blue Devils who stopped the conference leading East Jordan Red Devils by a 19 to 0 whitewashing. Charlevoix rolled over Pellston 40 to 0 and the Harbor Springs Rams administered a 32 to 6 whipping to the Boyne City Ramblers. Here at the Grayling Memorial Recreation Area last Friday night under the lights at the annual Homecoming game, the Grayling Vikings showed their backers all of the fight, fire and determination that anyone could ask for but dropped the contest to the Mancelona Ironmen 19 to 6.

The first quarter was played just about even up but the Ironmen struck for a score in the second frame with a pass play from Mancelona quarterback Ron Grody to back Barry Moeke that covered 50 yards. The point after was missed and the Ironmen held a 6 to 0 lead.

The Vikings came right back with a march that was capped by a pass play from Grayling quarterback Bill Joseph to end Mark Anderson that covered 25 yards. The Vikings missed the point after also and the score was knotted at 6 all. Just before halftime, half-back Moeke shook free from several Viking defenders to scamper into paydirt from 15 yards out. Roger Jabara added the point after touchdown on a kick and the Ironmen held a 13 to 6 lead as the half ended.

The Grayling High Band put on a fine halftime performance for the homecoming crowd and the various class floats also paraded around the field. One of the highlights of the halftime festivities was the naming of Dr. Stanley A. Stealy as a honorary captain of the Vikings. For his fine and loyal support of the team and his service as team physician, Dr. Stealy was also presented with a lifetime pass to all future Viking games. The presentations were made by Viking halfbacks Gary Lucksted and Jim Young.

The second half belonged completely to the green and white clad Vikings except for the final minute of play. The entire half was played on the Ironmen's end of the field and Grayling pushed the orange and black all over the greensward. The only thing Grayling didn't do was score.

New School Progress Report

A meeting of the building committee, Joseph Stripe, Bill Joseph, Sandy Thompson and Mrs. Matilda Bishop was held on the site Sept. 26 with the contractors and R. W. Peterson of the Daverman Company.

The progress schedule as prepared by the General Contractor was briefly reviewed. R. L. Derocher of the Consolidated Construction Company, advised that the first shipment of brick was to have arrived on Sept. 30, the balance scheduled in approximately three day intervals until all brick is on the site. Structural steel was scheduled for the second week in October. It was noted that progress to date was on schedule. All concrete footings were to have been completed by Sept. 30. Block foundation walls were progressing rapidly with 50 per cent completed as of the meeting date. Some sand fill had been placed, the balance of fill for the interior scheduled for week of Sept. 30 along with compaction as it progressed.

Mechanical and Electrical contractors were to commence on the interior underfoot work following placement of fill.

The Mechanical Contractor was to arrange for the re-routing of the storm sewer immediately in order that the existing sewer could be cut off and capped under the building area. Also all underground work in the area east of the new structure was to be concentrated on including the water service to the building.

It was pointed out that no concrete floor slabs would be poured prior to having the building closed - in and temporary heat provided if necessary.

Another progress meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 29 at 10:00 a.m. at the site.

Michigan, One of 16 States To Boost Unemployment Compensation

UNEMPLOYMENT PAY
Michigan boosted its unemployment compensation rates by $5 this year and was one of 16 states which jacked weekly jobless pay benefits higher.

The current $60 maximum benefits in Michigan placed the state fourth highest in the nation, behind only Alaska at $70, Connecticut at $67, and Massachusetts.

In Massachusetts an unemployed man draws a maximum of $45, but $6 is allowed for each dependent child. The maximum in compensation cannot exceed the worker's average weekly wage on the job.

Of the 16 states which increased benefits to unemployed workers this year, Massachusetts and New Hampshire also added $5 to the allotments.

The 1963 state changes brought the nation's average maximum benefit rate for out-of-work employees to about $42.50 per week.

In a switch from the trend to higher benefits, two states decreased the maximum payments. Colorado rescinded a bonus previously paid to employees with stable work records, and Wyoming adjusted its escalator clause downward by 5 per cent.

Although the number of weeks for which benefits are paid varies from state, Michigan ranks with the majority which limits payments to not more than 26 weeks.

BUSY POLICEMEN

If you ever have an idea that the Michigan State Police don't have their work cut out for them, take a look at the department records.

During a single recent month, when department strength was below 1,100 men, the department recorded 17,446 arrests of adults. During the same period 645 juvenile traffic offenders were arrested and 574 delinquent and wayward minors were apprehended.

This is just the beginning, however.

Troopers assisted 5,175 motorists during the month. An additional 7,634 cars were investigated; some 22,850 drivers were given oral warnings; and more than 1,000 property and liquor inspections were made.

Department vehicles traveled well over 1.5 million miles, of which 853,000 were on traffic patrol and the rest on criminal investigations and other complaints.

This was the activity outside the police posts and headquarters in East Lansing.

Inside the offices of the department there was other work to be done. Some 12,268 sets of fingerprints were received for identification. Of these, 7,060 were criminal and the rest civilian. Thirty-one "wanted" persons were identified through this process. One unknown dead was identified through the same means.

Criminal records also were found on 235 of the 2,289 applicants for permits to carry concealed weapons.

The department's crime lab recorded 783 examinations during the period. These included questioned documents, firearms, tool marks, microscopic and botanical examinations. Over 100 requests for lab services from other law enforcement agencies also were handled.

MEET MEAT OPPORTUNITY

Observance of Michigan Meat Week from Sept. 30 to Oct. 5 was very replete with the usual attention gaining whoopee that such special weeks usually engender. Proclamation by the Governor, a kickoff dinner, special displays by meat retailers, and ample publicity on the event were a part of this affair under sponsorship of the Michigan Livestock Improvement Ass'n in cooperation with meat retailers and others.

The event focused attention on two things: the desirability of Michigan-produced red meat, and the opportunities in raising more livestock in the state.

Michigan is a surplus state in production of many fine agricultural products. Most states do not have the wide variety of exportable products. But red meat is not one of them.

Michigan produces a bare 35 per cent of the red meat its eight million citizens consume. Yet the state has ample feed grains to support a more extensive livestock population plus some of the finest pastureland to be found. There is plenty of room for expansion in the industry for people with know-how and facilities.

RED CROSS ONE HUNDRED YEARS OLD

Almost a hundred years ago a doctor wearing a Red Cross armband stepped out on a battlefield in Europe. He moved between the lines caring for the wounded, and as he did so, the guns of both armies fell silent for them. From that moment on the red cross has been a respected symbol of mercy for all men.

This year, the Red Cross, beginning its second century, is still bringing relief to people suffering from disaster, disease, and war. Its work is made possible by the humanitarian impulses of people of goodwill everywhere.

Rev. ROBERT H. HARPER

WHAT WOULD HE DO?
IN READING and hearing about all the wonders of the present age and the horrifying possibilities of making war and the imagined ability of blowing away the world itself to spread it in a trail of vapors and ashes through space, I fell to thinking what would and what could Napoleon Bonaparte do if he were here today?

JUST A THOUGHT:
Whatever our individual station in life, we are called upon frequently to meet the challenge of making a decision in which conscience must play a part. It's not always easy to do the right thing. Sometimes it requires great effort to even give it a try.

It is perhaps safe to assume that he who rose above the storm of the French Revolution and carried the banners of the French to the far corners of Europe and threatened the British Isles would find a way to master and use the things of the present. But how?

In some ways, Napoleon would find the task of ruling and of making war simplified, or at least made easier. Instead of riding his beautiful horse at the head of his troops, over the nations, he would ride in a high-powered car over paved highways or fly in jet planes. But he would not bother to travel thus, he would just stay in his palace in Paris and order the destruction upon any offending nation.

Instead of going to Moscow and risk having it burned down upon him and his army as happened to him once, he would not go there. And if the world were to be as it is now, Napoleon would set the

On their way home they spent a few days with friends in Boulder, Colo., and a week with friends in St. Louis, Mo. They stopped in Grand Rapids to see Mr. Wood's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Penty, and for a short time in Midland before returning home, having had a very fine trip.

SOMETHING NEW

Just about everyone in town takes notice when ground is broken for a new building project. A new house, a new store, a new business place, this is progress everyone can see.

There is another kind of progress, too. And, many fail to take note, unless they really know where to look. We're talking about new products—new home furnishings, new appliances, new foods and food-packaging—the things that make life better and more pleasant for all of us.

Where is this progress evident? One place is in the newspaper ads sponsored in this paper by local merchants. Another? The merchandise displayed and stocked by local merchants is constantly changing—old items are improved on, new ideas in design, construction and service are introduced.

Take the time to look and you'll see what we mean.

One Good Answer . . .

The high school "dropout" problem is arousing national concern — among educators, business people, government officials, just about everyone who has an awareness of the needs of this fast-changing age. President Kennedy has spoken of it, and proposed that a special study be made. It is a problem which is most acute in the major population centers, where reports say that dropouts average an astonishing and ominous 25 per cent, but it is certainly not confined to them. The smaller communities and the rural areas are faced with it too.

There have always been substantial numbers of young people who failed to complete high school, so, in that sense, the problem is not new. But, in a simpler sense, those with very limited educations had far more opportunity to find jobs and earn at least a marginal living. Nowadays young people who leave school before gaining special skills too frequently become not only unemployed, but unemployable. They, with wives and children, drift onto the relief and public welfare rolls.

Various solutions to the problem are being tried or proposed. They range a wide gamut, from outright pleas to young people to complete their high school education to demands that the government step in and do something drastic about it. And various localities, to their honor, are taking positive steps on their own hook. One of these is Bedford, Ohio, which, some years ago, instituted an intensified industrial-education-vocational program in its schools with the cooperation of local industry and the local Rotary Club.

The basic objectives of the Bedford plan were made clear at the start. One was to create an incentive for the students to learn. Another was to create a goal for the students to reach, and to impress upon them that superior accomplishment would ease their path into the business world. Still another was to stress the excellent facilities of the local high school, and to improve those facilities with contributions of discarded material, equipment and tools from industry. The primary goal was to see to it that the student would have the foundation needed to assure him of an interesting and worthwhile job.

Industry has responded enthusiastically — more than a million dollars worth of equipment has been contributed. While the program places emphasis on the machine shop, courses are available in other fields, — architecture, drafting, graphic arts, and so on. Plans are underway for expansion into the mechanical and electronic areas. Whatever the particular course, students enjoy it — simply because they see how the subjects taught have real meaning and purposefulness. Superior performance receives recognition at an annual banquet when awards are presented and thus a spirit of competition among the learners is maintained.

The proof of the pudding, of course, is in the eating. So, as a practical matter, it's fair to ask just how well the plan has worked. The answer is reassuring — accomplishment records of the young people have been excellent. And requests from industry for graduates have actually exceeded the number graduating.

Bedford, in sum, faced up to the dropout problem years ago and tackled it without waiting for the state or federal government or any other agency or institution to do the needed job for it. The result, it seems, has been maximum result at minimum cost. Other communities one can safely say, could profitably take a leaf from Bedford's book.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

October 24, 1940

Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock will occur the dedication of the new flagpole at the State Highway maintenance garage, and the public is cordially invited to be present. The dedicatory ceremonies will be conducted by members of Grayling American Legion Post No. 106, and the Grayling High School band will be on hand to furnish music. This flagpole was constructed by the employees at the garage and rests on a cement base on the lawn in front of the building. The pole itself is steel.

Mr. Carl E. Johnson of Detroit had as his guests at his cottage on the AuSable over Sunday La-tan Valentines and Hal Addison, both of Detroit. They were here to do a little partridge hunting.

Miss Genevieve Witkowski of Detroit spent the weekend visiting her sister, Mrs. Joe Kasper.

Of interest to friends in Grayling is the marriage of Miss Mabel Isenhauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Isenhauer, to George Ostling of Roscommon. The rites were solemnized at the home of the bride's brother, Charles Isenhauer, in Manchester, Mich., Sunday, October 13. Mrs. Ostling wore a rust colored street length dress with brown accessories and carried a bouquet of red roses. The bride is a graduate of the Grayling schools and for some time worked in the Mercy hospital, until about four years ago when she accepted employment in Roscommon. The young couple has the best wishes of friends for a happy wedded life.

Frank Sales Ben Franklin store and the A. J. Rehkopf plumbing shop were broken into during Tuesday night and quantities of money and merchandise were taken. At the Ben Franklin store the intruders had broken the glass in the back door and reached inside and unlocked the door. At the Rehkopf shop a lower panel had been taken from a back door, they having used pipe that was lying outside to break in with. The Gulf Gas station across from the golf course was broken into on the night of October 15. They made entrance by breaking a large front window, just inside of which a night light was burning. Mr. and Mrs. William Terwilliger, who operate the station, live less than 100 feet away.

A roller skating craze is covering Frederick school district, with more and more students and adults coming out for this exciting sport. Last Friday evening over one hundred people were on skates, making more noise than a herd of buffalo and having more fun than a circus. The next party will be a roller skating masquerade jamboree, which will be new to all. Confetti and other party makers will be present along with many prizes for costumes. Admission to the party is free and renting the skates costs only 25c for the full evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jerome of Pontiac and nephew Jack Sparke spent the weekend with Mrs. M. A. Bates. While here they closed their summer home at Lake Margrethe for the winter season.

Joseph Cinciala, one of the proprietors of the Grayling Restaurant, was in Bay City Sunday to see the new little daughter that arrived the evening before. The baby weighed 7 1/2 pounds and her name is Mary Ann. Mrs. Cinciala and baby are at the home of her parents there.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Smith of Detroit spent a few days last week at their cottage at Lake Margrethe. They will be returning in November for deer hunting and again in February, when Mr. Smith hopes to enjoy some fishing through the ice. The Smiths own the cottage formerly owned by Jess Schoonover.

Mrs. Leo Gannon has been in Big Bay for several days looking for a house as the family expects to move there. Mr. Gannon is manager of the Big Bay plant of the Kerry and Hanson Flooring Company and has been there for some time.

Hallowe'en decorations made a pretty setting for Rex Hunter's birthday party, which his mother Mrs. Amos Hunter gave for him Monday when he was six years old. There was a Hallowe'en cap for each of the ten guests, who came after school and stayed until dark. Games were played and Rex's mother served ice cream and cake.

Floyd Sanselow, Conservation department engineer, was here Tuesday and Wednesday laying out plans for a camp ground on the north branch of the AuSable river, on the fishing site recently acquired through the 40 cent monies from fishing licenses. Wednesday Richard Foster, chief of the CCC planning division, conservation department, was here making plans for the CCC work on this site.

Herbert Trudeau has purchased the former John F. Hum property on Michigan Ave., and is making some nice improvements on it. A new roof has been put on the house and the outside walls are being covered with white asbestos shingles. They also are making some changes in the kitchen of the home by putting in new up-to-date windows. Anton Kangas and his force of workmen are doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Robarge spent the weekend visiting in Flint. Miss Evelyn Skingley of Detroit spent the weekend visiting her parents.

Billy Moshier is the proud owner of a new 1941 five passenger convertible Buick coupe.

Gloria MacNeven and Robert Herbison of M.S.C., East Lansing, spent the weekend visiting their parents.

Mrs. Lorne J. Douglas of Saskatchewan, Ca., spent a couple of days this week here visiting her mother Mrs. Ellen Feiling and sisters Mrs. E. J. Olson and Mrs. Earl Wood. She left Wednesday on her return trip home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hayes returned Monday from a brief hunting trip around Alma and Crystal.

Frank DeWitt and Charles Winger while hunting at Houghton Lake Saturday were lucky in bagging three wild geese, out of a flock which had landed on the water.

Mrs. Peter Robertson and son Clarence and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Robertson spent the weekend in Saginaw, guests of the Arthur Anderson family. The occasion was Mrs. Anderson's birthday.

Friday, Dr. Dave Shetter, of the Institute of Fisheries Research, Ann Arbor, will be here and with the crew at the Grayling Fish Hatchery will fin-clip and tag one thousand brook trout for planting. Any fisherman next season catching one of these should immediately send in the tag for checking purposes.

NEWS for truck owners who need a new one now

Things Chevrolet has developed since the last time you bought to give you more for your money:

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the lower inner wall acts as a buffer against road damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

Suspension to fit the truck. Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable rate coils in the rear. Variable rate coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leaf springs. It automatically stiffens as the load increases — and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

The right engine. Chevrolet never has been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel

Chevrolet truck engines — fours, sixes, V8's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. This type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Quality trucks always cost less!

Better Child Health Record In County

(Special to the Avalanche)

NEW YORK — The average child born at the present time in Crawford County is more fortunate, from the standpoint of health, than if he were born in most parts of the United States.

He has a better chance locally, based on past experience, of surviving the critical first year of life and growing up to adulthood. The once-feared infectious diseases, such as diphtheria, whooping cough, measles and scarlet fever, have been almost entirely eliminated in the county.

Today, as a result, only one out of 25 new-born babies fails to survive the hazardous early years and to reach maturity.

The question of child health and infant mortality has been brought to the fore by the recent death of the Kennedy baby and by the birth of the Fischer quintuplets.

Latest figures on the subject, covering all parts of the country, have just been issued by the National Office of Vital Statistics.

Among children born to Crawford County parents, they show, there are fewer losses in the first year of life than is the case in many localities.

Locally, there were 21.1 such deaths per 1,000 live-births in 1960, compared with an infant mortality rate of 26.0 per 1,000 in the rest of the United States. The rate was 24.0 in the East North Central States.

Largely because of the progress that has been made by medical science in the last few decades in the field of child health, the average span of life has been increased noticeably.

The latest findings are that the average boy in the United States, once he has reached the age of one has a further life expectancy of 67.6 years. The average girl at age one may look forward to an additional 73.8 years.

Although progress continues to be made in almost every phase of child health, the gains are coming at a slower pace than formerly. There have been no dramatic breakthroughs lately.

The report shows that the current infant mortality rate in Crawford County is lower than it was in 1948, when it amounted to 73.2 deaths per 1,000 births.

Failure to receive adequate prenatal care is cited by the Children's Bureau as the most frequent reason for the high rates found in some areas.

LOCAL NURSES REPRESENT NORTH CENTRAL DISTRICT AT 56th ANNUAL CONVENTION

M.S.N.A. held its 56th annual convention Oct. 8-11, at Lansing, Mich. Grace Newell, R.N., and Laura Morse, R.N., (delegates) attended from this area.

About 40 clinical programs, lectures, and business sessions were held. National leaders in the nursing field presented major addresses. Michigan's First Lady, Mrs. George Romney, was luncheon speaker on Oct. 10; her topic "Our Responsibility for Better Government." The convention closed with a program on "Economic Security for the Profession," and a final session of the M.S.N.A. House of Delegates.

M.S.N.A. is the official organization of 7,200 Michigan R.N.'s who are interested in advancing their professional knowledge to provide better patient care.

The occasion was in honor of the graduation of the Misses Blanche Blondin and Helen Rivard from the Mercy hospital training school for nurses. After dinner a short but interesting program was given. Do you know who this young fisherman is? He is a citizen of Grayling now but when this picture was taken back in 1931, it was at Lovells. The two fine trout were caught by Carl Warnick between the old railroad bridge and the old mill in a log jam on the North Branch of the AuSable. The largest was 31 1/2 inches long and the other 28 inches. Both fine trout were taken right fishing, Carl said. The little fisherman?... he's Tom Douglas.

BAND BOOSTERS INSTALL OFFICERS

The Band Boosters met Thursday evening in the Band Room. Installation of officers was held, with Russell Wright installed as president, Harvey Rowland, vice-president, Mrs. Leroy Millikin, secretary, and Mrs. Don Jansen, treasurer. Recent Band Booster activities were reviewed by the president. The showing of the Fred Bear tiger hunt movie netted the Band Uniform Fund $353.75, due to the generosity and help of Mr. Bear and Mr. Thomas Stancil. On the canoe race weekend Mrs. Arthur Carlson headed the committee which served the lunch to the bands furnished by the Steering Committee.

Planning ahead for this year, the following committees were set up: Ways and Means, Mrs. Les Hunter, Mrs. Bill Joseph and Mrs. A. W. Kipp; Publicity, Mrs. Arthur Carlson and Mrs. Harold Dykema. A variety show is a project for mid March. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Leroy Millikin and Mrs. Wm. Joseph. Mrs. Roy Wedge is on the committee. Other committees will be appointed as plans go along.

A committee was formed to look into new band uniform ideas and compose a type to be presented to the company for a price estimate.

Bit by bit... every litter bit hurts!

KEEP AMERICA
BEAUTIFUL!

The present uniforms after 16 years are in need of replacement. Co-chairmen of this committee are Mrs. Leonard Knibbs, Arthur Carlson, Wm. LaGrow, Mrs. Robert Boyce, Mrs. Leroy Millikin and Mrs. Harvey Rowland. If local groups, friends and parents will help with this worthy project it would add greatly both to the band's morale and public pride, for the band represents and reflects the community. Join with the Band Boosters!

MRS. M. RUTKOWSKI LAD TO REST

Mrs. Mary Rutkowski passed away Saturday, October 19, 1963, at Grayling Mercy Hospital after having been ill for several months. She was 72 years old her last birthday.

Mrs. Rutkowski was born June 8, 1891 to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dreffs in Gaylord. She was raised there, and in 1912 married her husband, Stanley Rutkowski. They made their home in Johannesburg before coming to Grayling about thirty years ago. She was a member of St. Mary's church, and devoted her time to her family.

Besides her husband, Stanley, Mrs. Rutkowski is survived by three sons: Walter of Yuma, Arizona, of Detroit, and Edward of Grayling, a daughter, Frances Hanson of Grayling, and twelve grandchildren, also four brothers: Alex Dreffs and Edward of Johannesburg, Walter and John Dreffs of Gaylord, three sisters, Sophia Mankowski and Jennie Swantek of Gaylord, and Marsha Vannatter of Grayling.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, October 22, 1963, at St. Mary's church with the Rev. Fr. Joseph Sakowski officiating. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery, with her nephews John, Tony, Robert and Carl Mankowski, and Ted and Ben Dreffs serving as pallbearers.

Here to attend the services from out of town were: Walter Rutkowski of Yuma, Ariz., Lewis Rutkowski and family of Warren, Mrs. Sophie Dreffs, Detroit, Mr. Alec Dreffs and Edward Dreffs of Johannesburg, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dreffs, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dreffs, Mr. and Mrs. Mankowski, Mr. and Mrs. John Mankowski, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mankowski, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mankowski, Carl Mankowski and Mr. and Mrs. Wal ter Swantek, all of Gaylord, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stempel and Mrs. Lynn Fenton of Pinconning, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Walkowski and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Armstrong of Saginaw, Mrs. Elizabeth Morey, Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yarocho of Uby, and Ben Morris of Dearborn, Maj. Arthur Ueberroth and Maj. Louis Langford of Lansing.

Services held for WILLIAM E. LOVE

Funeral services were held for William E. Love, 65, at 2 o'clock at the Michelson Memorial church on Friday, October 18, 1963, with the Rev. R. C. Puffer officiating. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery. Mr. Love passed away Wednesday, October 16th, at his home in Beaver Creek, after an illness of four teen days.

Will Love was born June 2, 1898 the youngest child of Henrietta Fuller and John Love, at the farm in Beaver Creek where he spent his whole life. His parents were pioneer settlers in Beaver Creek, and the Love farm was well-known for its excellent produce. Will managed the Love's Dairy for 40 years, serving both Roscommon and Grayling. He began training for this task early, according to a news item appearing in 1910 in the Avalanche, which states, "Master Willie Love, 12 years old, is the champion cheese boy. While his father, John A. Love, has been in bed for the past ten days, Willie has taken care of 35 head of stock, principally horses and cattle. He has fed and watered the stock, cleaned the stable, and done other chores, and goes around singing, happy as a lark. What other boy at that age can do as much?"

Mr. Love was a member of the Senior Citizens Club of Roscommon. He was married December 4, 1929, to Evelyn Embury, who survives. His only surviving son is a stepdaughter, Mrs. Helen Jankovick of Bay City, two grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Hartley of Grayling and Mrs. Will Schreiber of Dearborn, several nieces and nephews.

Here to attend the services from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. William Schreiber of Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Belmore and Mr. and Mrs. John Belmore of St. Clair Shores, Mr. and Mrs. John Selesky and son Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fisher of Rose City, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Embury of Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore of West Branch, Mr. and Mrs. George Peach of Farmington, Mrs. J. D. Pear of Sault Ste. Marie, Mrs. Carl Archambault and Harold Skingley of Saginaw, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Golinick of Bay City, Mrs. A. J. Tillman and daughter of Detroit, Ernest Corwin of Cadillac, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Feltman of St. Louis, and Dr. Bernard Godfrey of Traverse City.

A contribution has been made to the Crawford County Library as a memorial to William E. Love, brought in Monday by Mrs. Edith Paul of Whispering Pines. Anyone wishing to contribute further may contact Mrs. Paul or Frank L. Bond, chairman of the Crawford County Library Board.
